

PJ Hoover
Tut: The Story of My Immortal Life
Passive Program

Title: Egyptian Figures

Introduction/Purpose of Program: Patrons will design a shabti to be displayed in the library's shabti army or design a scarab.

Detailed Description of the Program: Patrons will design or create a shabti or scarab.
Optional: Patrons can create a 3D Shabti or scarab using found items. (Scarabs could be made into a piece of jewelry.)

Program Related Books to Display or Book Talk:

Janes, Glenn, and Tom Bangbala. Shabtis: A Private View: Ancient Egyptian Funerary Statuettes in European Private Collections. Paris: Cybele, 2002. Print.

Netzley, Patricia D. The Curse of King Tut. San Diego, CA: Lucent, 2000. Print.

Newberry, Percy E. Egyptian Scarabs. Mineola, NY: Dover Publications, 2002. Print.

Regula, DeTraci, and Kerigwen. Sacred Scarabs: For Divination and Personal Power. St. Paul, MN: Llewellyn Publications, 2001. Print.

Wilkinson, Richard H. Egyptian Scarabs. Oxford: Shire Publications, 2008. Print.

Wilkinson, Richard H. Egyptian Scarabs. Oxford: Shire Publications, 2008. Print.

List of Supplies:

Copies of Shabti coloring page, Copies of Scarab coloring page, Crayons, Colored Pencils, Paint, Paint brushes, Scissors

Optional for 3D objects: Polymer clay, wire, paper, paper mache, clay, metal pieces, anything you can imagine to make a 3D shabti or scarab.

Resources (print and electronic):

<http://www.history.com/topics/ancient-history/ancient-egypt> and display books

Shabati Coloring Page

Scarab Coloring Page

